BENJAMIN K. WORMALD
Web Producer & Editor

email: benwormald@gmail.com
telephone: (240) 285-6769
address: 153 Todd Place NE Washington DC, 20002

●●

Jan 2013
- present

The Pew Research Center
Web Producer

Responsible for production workflow for projects across the Pew Research sister sites, including pewresearch.org, pewforum.org, people-press.org, journalism.org, and the Fact Tank blog.
Concieves of and assists in the creation of new ways to to display online content for a growing digital audience, including data visualization and interactive tools.
Maintains site-wide taxonomy and tagging structure for search engine optimization.
Assists in quality assurance and maintenence of a custom multi-site WordPress platform.

Aug 2012
- Jan 2013

WAMU 88.5
Newsroom Assistant and Reporter

Produced segments, wrote scripts, and cunducted research and interviews for local and regional news stories and features for National Public Radio.
Assigned, edited, and recorded news segments.
Monitored news sites and social media outlets for breaking news.

May 2010
- May 2011

Georgetown University Press
Assistant Language Editor

Collaborated with authors and editors in developing text and mulimedia for a series of bestselling Near-East language texts and texbooks.
Researched new multimedia platforms to compliment texts.
Edited and proofed text, multimedia, and navigation for online content.
Edited and maintained a database of supplementary audio and video files.

●●

2007
- 2011

Georgetown University
Bachelor of Arts - Government (Cum Laude)

●●

Computer Skills

excellent
HTML/CSS, SEO, Wordpress CMS, MS Office, Google applications, Microsoft and Apple OS

working knowledge
Javascript/jQuery, Google Analytics, Highcarts, Adobe Creative Suite, Ruby on Rails